

New TV Shows And Movies Premiering This Week (November 10–16, 2025)

Your weekly watchlist is here! Discover all the new TV shows and movies premiering November 10–16, 2025, across Netflix, Prime Video, Disney+, HBO Max, Apple TV, and more. Whether you're in the mood for a gripping thriller, a cozy rom-com, or a powerful docuseries, this week's lineup has something for everyone.

Jane Austen Wrecked My Life

Release Date: November 10

Where to Watch: Netflix

A bookish romantic finds her world turned upside down when fiction and reality collide. This modern comedy follows her quest for true love, guided and misguided by the timeless lessons of Jane Austen. Witty, warm, and charmingly chaotic, it's a love letter to literature and the unpredictable messiness of romance.

Marines

Release Date: November 10

Where to Watch: Netflix

This powerful docuseries provides unprecedented access to the 31st Marine Expeditionary Unit, capturing raw emotion, intense training, and the bonds that form in service. It's both an inspiring and sobering portrait of courage, sacrifice, and brotherhood.

Bat-Fam

Release Date: November 10

Where to Watch: Prime Video

The Dark Knight's household gets a hilarious twist in Bat-Fam. Batman, Alfred, and Damian Wayne welcome new faces including Alfred's eccentric grandniece, a reformed villain, and even Ra's al Ghul as 'Pap Pap.' This quirky animated comedy explores the chaos of family life, Gotham style.

Roofman

Release Date: November 11

Where to Watch: VOD/Digital

Based on an unbelievable true story, Roofman follows Jeffrey Manchester (Channing Tatum), an Army veteran and struggling father who turns to robbing McDonald's restaurants by cutting holes in their roofs. After escaping prison, he hides inside a Toys 'R' Us for six months, living undetected until love complicates everything.

Being Eddie

Release Date: November 12

Where to Watch: Netflix

Eddie Murphy invites fans into his private world in this documentary celebrating his five-decade career through unseen footage and reflections from comedy legends.

A Merry Little Ex-Mas

Release Date: November 12

Where to Watch: Netflix

Kate (Alicia Silverstone) just wants one last perfect family Christmas before selling her home. But when her ex-husband brings his new girlfriend, chaos and laughter follow.

Selling The OC

Release Date: November 12

Where to Watch: Netflix

The real estate drama heats up as the agents battle for dominance at the Oppenheim Group. With luxury listings and soaring egos, this season turns up the heat.

The Beast in Me

Release Date: November 12

Where to Watch: Netflix

Claire Danes stars as a grieving author who becomes dangerously obsessed with her mysterious neighbor, played by Matthew Rhys. It's a haunting psychological thriller about grief, guilt, and temptation.

Playdate

Release Date: November 12

Where to Watch: Prime Video

Kevin James and Alan Ritchson star in a wild suburban action-comedy where two dads turn a simple playdate into a chaotic battle for survival.

Palm Royale Season 2

Release Date: November 12

Where to Watch: Apple TV

Kristen Wiig returns as Maxine Simmons, who's determined to infiltrate Palm Beach's elite. Expect even more drama, humor, and ambition this season.

Freakier Friday

Release Date: November 12

Where to Watch: Disney+

Jamie Lee Curtis and Lindsay Lohan return for a hilarious sequel. When lightning strikes again, a new generation of body-swapping chaos begins.

The Murder Tapes

Release Date: November 12

Where to Watch: ID

This true-crime series takes viewers inside real investigations through police footage and raw evidence, making it one of the most authentic crime docuseries on TV.

Last Samurai Standing

Release Date: November 13

Where to Watch: Netflix

In the late 19th century during Japan's Meiji period, 292 warriors gather for a deadly competition. Each must steal their opponent's tags to survive. A gripping, blood-soaked battle royale where only one samurai remains.

Jay Kelly

Release Date: November 14

Where to Watch: Select Theaters

George Clooney stars as movie actor Jay Kelly, embarking on a journey of self-discovery with his loyal manager Ron (Adam Sandler). Poignant and humorous, it's a moving exploration of regret and fame.

Nouvelle Vague

Release Date: November 14

Where to Watch: Netflix

Set in 1960s Paris, this stylish drama explores passion and rebellion through the eyes of a young filmmaker challenging the old ways of cinema.

In Your Dreams

Release Date: November 14

Where to Watch: Netflix

After a heart transplant, a woman begins experiencing memories she can't explain, leading her into a web of secrets and lies.

The Crystal Cuckoo

Release Date: November 14

Where to Watch: Netflix

A young doctor feels drawn to her donor's mysterious past after a heart transplant, uncovering a 20-year-old mystery that could destroy her.

Come See Me in the Good Light

Release Date: November 14

Where to Watch: Apple TV

A touching, funny love story about poets Andrea Gibson and Megan Falley facing terminal illness with humor and heart.

A Very Jonas Christmas

Release Date: November 14

Where to Watch: Disney+

The Jonas Brothers bring holiday spirit, music, and misadventures as they race to make it home for Christmas.

Malice

Release Date: November 14

Where to Watch: Prime Video

Jack Whitehall stars as a charming tutor who becomes dangerously entangled in his wealthy employer's life in this sinister psychological thriller.

Eddington

Release Date: November 14

Where to Watch: HBO Max

A tense political drama about a small-town sheriff and mayor whose feud erupts into chaos and corruption.

One To One: John & Yoko

Release Date: November 14

Where to Watch: HBO Max

A moving documentary chronicling John Lennon and Yoko Ono's first year in New York City, filled with rare footage and candid interviews.

Now You See Me: Now You Don't

Release Date: November 14

Where to Watch: Theaters

The Four Horsemen return for another high-stakes heist, teaming up with a new generation of illusionists for their most daring mission yet.

Keeper

Release Date: November 14

Where to Watch: Theaters

A woman isolated in a remote cabin must fight for survival when confronted with an unspeakable evil.

Trap House

Release Date: November 14

Where to Watch: Theaters

Two undercover DEA agents discover their own children are stealing from a cartel, leading to a dangerous cat-and-mouse chase.

Eternity

Release Date: November 14

Where to Watch: Limited Theaters

In the afterlife, a woman must choose between her lifelong partner and her first love in this emotional romantic fantasy.

Sirat

Release Date: November 14

Where to Watch: Limited Theaters

A father and son trek across Morocco's rave scene searching for a missing daughter, confronting grief and hope along the way.

Worst Christmas Ever

Release Date: November 14

Where to Watch: Theaters

A divorced dad reluctantly joins his ex-wife's Christmas celebration in Atlanta and discovers a second chance at love.

Belén

Release Date: November 14

Where to Watch: Prime Video

Based on true events, Belén tells the story of Julieta, a woman falsely accused of infanticide, and her lawyer's fight for justice.

Seduction

Release Date: November 14

Where to Watch: HBO Max

A bold reimagining of Les Liaisons Dangereuses where the betrayed Marquise de Merteuil becomes Paris' most powerful courtesan.

One Battle After Another

Release Date: November 14

Where to Watch: VOD/Digital

A washed-up revolutionary must rescue his missing daughter in this gripping father-daughter thriller about redemption.

Eric Jerome Dickey's Friends and Lovers (Parts 1 & 2)

Release Date: November 15–16

Where to Watch: Lifetime

Naturi Naughton, Simone Missick, Kendrick Sampson, and RonReaco Lee star in this heartfelt adaptation of Eric Jerome Dickey's bestselling novel about love, friendship, and forgiveness.

Landman Season 2

Release Date: November 16

Where to Watch: Paramount+

Billy Bob Thornton and Demi Moore return in this gritty Texas oil saga where power, greed, and family secrets collide.